

Peers Skirmishing and the Envious Outbidding!

Near the embassy of the Jewish statelet in Turkey, where Jewish nationals roam freely and safely, the murtadd Brotherhood and those resembling them declare the kufr of the Emirates after they announced their relations with that statelet publicly. At the same time, they ironically pray for the taghut of Turkey, who claimed to cut his country's ties with the Emirates because of their announcement.

This comedic scene drawn by the circumstances in the last few days, provides a live example to how the murtaddin play with religion, and use it as a political tool and nothing more. The murtaddin are Murji'ah to those they support, where nothing they do is a sin as long as they benefit from them, and Kha-warij to those they oppose, where nothing they do is of good as long as they are harmed by them! How deluded they are, may Allah condemn them.

The tawaghit of the Emirates and those resembling them were not kuffar yesterday when they announced their relations with the Jewish statelet, nor the day before when they stood against the murtadd Brotherhood and supported their secular enemies against them. Rather, they became murtaddin and kuffar when they ruled the land of the Muslims with a different law than the Shari'ah of Allah, and when they supported the Crusaders against the Muslims in Khurasan and Iraq and other Muslim lands, and when they helped spread multiple kufr religions and heresy, and they have been doing this for decades.

The murtaddin belonging to the falsely named Islamic parties did not recall any of these kufr actions, because they themselves and their allies are committing them. It is enough to remember the "openness to relationships". They did not apply the kufr ruling to their own murtadd allies like Morsi, Erdogan, and other tawaghit whom kept their "treaties" with the Jewish statelet, as did the tawaghit of Qatar, who publicly announced their relations prior to the Emirates. They all played with Allah's rules however they wanted, may Allah curse them all.

Perhaps one of the Emirates' apostates was truthful when he accused the tawaghit of Qatar and the murtadd Brotherhood who support them that they only oppose the announcement of relations with the Jewish statelet, not because they care for Palestine and its people, as they claim, but because they envy the Emirates for its relations with the Jewish statelet, which might help them please the Crusaders even more. Otherwise, the Jewish embassy's doors are wide open in Turkey and none of their allies (the murtadd Brotherhood) are opposing that.

This situation resembles the one where Al Saud tawaghit were verbally attacked because of the Crusader airplanes flying from the Arabian Peninsula to bomb Muslims in Iraq and Afghanistan, the reason being it was Qatar's wish to not share with anyone in the region in aiding the Crusaders, where al-'Udayd base will remain the only one to be used for attacks against Muslims, and their role in the region and ruling stays strong.

There were many cases before similar to this example, such as the multiple groups in Iraq that used to attack the Rafida and accuse them of treason for working for the Crusaders, and many of them used to judge them as kuffar for this reason; however, as soon as the Crusaders offered their hand they rushed to it and pledged their allegiance, and they followed their command in fighting Muslims under their flags. Thus, their attacks on the Rafida were only out of envy for their kufr and treason and nothing more.

A similar situation happened in Sham, when the murtadd al-Qaida attacked a number of groups because of their allegiance to the Turkish military and the Crusader alliance, where they judge them as kuffar and fought them on that basis. And after they defeated them, the murtadd al-Qaida went to Turkey and the Crusaders asking them to be treated the same way they used to treat the other groups they were calling kuffar, and to do the same job those former "agents" were doing, from fighting the believers and betraying the Muslims.

For these reasons, those murtaddin can no longer recruit people to fight for their causes. Instead, they offend every cause they raise their voices to support, to show that they are the concerned parent, and ask to be the only guardian, and attack every rival who tries to show his concern, and accuse him of treason and kufr, until, if they got hold of it, they sell it for the cheapest of prices. Hence, the people stopped carrying their causes, let alone fighting for them.

Therefore, no one was surprised with how cold the Muslim population reacted to the condemnation by the tawaghit of Turkey and Qatar of their brothers, the tawaghit of the Emirates, because of the relations with the Jewish statelet. People now realize that it is merely peers skirmishing and outbidding each other out of envy, nothing more.

We ask Allah to expose these murtaddin, and reveal their crimes to the people, and make their punishment in this life an example to anyone who dares play with His religion or distort His Shari'ah. Truly, He is the guardian and the All-Capable, and there is no might nor power without Allah the Most High and the Great.
